P., and admitted having passed the bill, but said that he had received it from a well-known resident of the town. The case was adjourned until this afternoon to admit of further evidence being secured. N. D. Beck for the crown. The prisoner was without counsel.

THE first number of the Regina Standard under the new proprietorship is to hand. The Standard is now under the full control of energetic and practical men, and its first number shows a great improvement editorially under the change of proprietorship. It is fitting that the capital of the Territories should have a good live paper able and willing to uphold the cause of the people, without regard to the personal ambition of any individual. The Standard is now such a paper, and as such is worthy of a hearty support from all sections of the Territories. There is no necessary rivalry between the paper or papers published at the Territorial capital and those published at other points throughout the Northwest. The former have peculiar advantages in dealing with local politics and should be leaders of public opinion on Territorial questions. Hitherto Regina has not had such a paper, and consequently its papers did not receive that outside appreciation and support to which their situation entitled them. Now that it has a live independent paper prepared to discuss Northwest politics on their merits the town itself will occupy a better place in the opinion of the rest of the country than it ever did before, and the paper should and will receive a better support, both from the town to which it does credit and from the Territories which, with the rapidly increasing importance of Territorial politics, feel the need of such a paper.

ST. ALBERT.

Hon. Freeman Talbot, a Minnesota state senator, formerly a resident of the county of Middlesex, Ont., and who visited Edmonton a short time ago, writes as follows to the Winnipeg Free Press:

EDMONTON, Sept. 14—I had long since believed that I was pretty well acquainted with the Edmonton district, an old associate of mine in early life had told me so often of the beauties of the Saskatchewan country. A grandson, long since dead, had cultivated the productive soil around the Hudson's Bay fort, and he had astonished me and many others with his interesting tale of speckled trout weighing from seven to nine pounds, of sturgeon nine feet long, of sixty bushels of wheat to the acre, and of fruits, vegetables and flowers, and buffalo, all so much greater and so abundant, and so easily obtained that few would credit the statements seemingly so wild, and so far beyond all that our experience had taught us to consider possible. But my investigations during the last week have taught me to believe that no former description of this district has quite reached the reality. I find here and out at St. Albert potatoes in rich bloom; balsams, a most tender plant, as bright as in June or July; buckwheat ripe, and wheat, barley, oats and timothy grass as good as ever grown in Middlesex county. The soil in this district is wonderfully rich, a black loam from one to three feet deep. Timber and willows cover at least two-thirds of all the land for many miles north and west from Edmonton. The timber is mostly poplar, some spruce, house logs and fence rails in abundance. The land can be cleared fit for the plow for from six to eight dollars an acre, and twenty good crops have been harvested from such land, and not one load of manure ever spread to enrich the soil. I visited the Roman Catholic mission (St. Albert). It is nine miles north-west from Edmonton, located on the north of Sturgeon river. The buildings are on the summit of the high bluffs, I would say some ninety feet above the river. This mission was established in 1858; there are 2,500 acres of land belonging to the mission. Four hundred acres are cultivated and no man could wish for better crops of all kinds, than are now to be seen on this beautiful farm. The garden is one of the best that I have yet examined, and I have seen many good ones. While all the vegetables are good the cabbage is decidedly superior to any I have found elsewhere. No insects, worms or defects here. Two hundred gallons of red, white and black currants were produced in the garden this season. Not one vegetable on this the 14th day of September is yet injured by frost. Bishop Grandin is the ruling spirit here, assisted by Father Leduc and ten rev. sisters. One hundred and fifty pupils are educated in the schools here. Whites, Metis and Indians. Many of the boys learn trades here and all are taught branches of industry that, in the years to come, will enable them to enjoy the fruits of honest labor. Thirty thousand dollars have been expended on this mission estate in buildings alone, the land cost the church nothing. A grist and saw mill had been erected on the mission grounds many years and did good work for the inhabitants of the surrounding country, but these mills were destroyed by a prairie fire some three years since. Father Leduc informed me that in 1868 he had raised from five acres of land, 360 bushels of wheat, or seventy-two bushels on each acre. This claim, I am satisfied, some will dispute, still the simple fact remains. 125 bushels of oats is no uncommon yield in this district, some 500 bushels of potatoes to the acre have frequently grown in the rich soil of the Saskatchewan. Mr. H. W. McKenny is postmaster, just across the river from the mission buildings, and keeps a general store. He is a good genial "Canuck," and is delighted with Alberta, and strange would it be were he not so, for it is a beautiful fertile land, and I found English, French, Swedes, Scotch, Virginians, Dakotans, Washingtonians, all from time to time, as I wandered through the country, seeking homes here. Of Edmonton I intend to say something in the future."

Senator Perley representing Assiniboia, writes to the Regina Standard regarding the political situation at Regina: "Is it possible that Mr. Cayley intends, or that the lieutenant-governor will allow him, to act, with his colleagues, as his honor's adviser for a year, when he is not justified in doing so even for one day. I do not care who the men are that compose the executive, but I want to see them occupy that position by virtue of some right. I am personally a friend, or at least have been, of Mr. Cayley, and I do not hesitate to say that if he had a particle of manhood or statesmanship in him he would not have accepted, or rather held the position of leader for one day after he had failed to elect a speaker. He should have immediately advised a dissolution of the assembly. This was the proper course, for it would have given an opportunity to those who voted for the Bet's amendment to justify the act by which they defeated the Haultain executive. In my opinion a poundkeeper should not be dismissed on an amendment worded as that one was."

Regina Standard: The impression prevails here to-day that the lieutenant-governor must dissolve the assembly and bring on a general election. Under the old advisory board system he could accept or refuse the advice of his so-called advisers. But now as the law stands he must act in conjunction with the assembly or a committee thereof. The present executive cannot claim to be a committee of the assembly. It is self-appointed and has never performed an official act which has been endorsed by the house. On the contrary the assembly has positively refused to elect as speaker the candidate proposed by this executive. In this refusal the assembly has repudiated the persons composing this committee, and the lieutenant-governor cannot, on the peril of his position, accept their advice. He can accept the advice of the assembly itself, but no body of men who have not the confidence of a majority, can be legally regarded as a committee thereof. There is something in the wind. His honor has gone post haste to Ottawa, and the efforts of the local officials to conceal both his destination and the object of his mission, heighten the suspicion that the Dominion government have called him down, and that a dissolution is at hand. So mote it be!

FALL SHOWS.

The annual exhibitions of the Edmonton and St. Albert agricultural societies will occur in the next two weeks, the former on the 13th and 14th and the latter on the 11th of October. It seems a pity that in an agricultural district such as surrounds Edmonton, where there are no natural divisions, and which, as a whole, is none too large to make a single good fall show, artificial divisions should be considered a sufficient reason for holding two exhibitions within nine miles of each other and on almost succeeding days. If the money that it takes to bear the expenses and pay the prize lists of the two exhibitions were lumped together very much larger prizes could be offered in all classes, and this would induce a keener competition; the larger prize and greater honor being an inducement to a farmer to take more trouble with his exhibit and bring it from a greater distance than the chance of getting a smaller prize in a comparatively one horse show. With a united district and larger prizes we would also be offering a better inducement to outsiders to visit us and see what our country can, as a whole, do, and would also have a better chance to secure reduced railway fares towards the same end. If an exhibition is for any purpose at all, the larger it is, the more competing articles it brings together, and the more people come to see them, the more good it does. It is to be hoped that every effort will be made to secure an adoption of this course next year.

For the present, however, we are committed to the two exhibitions and the only thing remaining is to make both of them the best in competition and attendance that the country admits. Liberal prizes, all things considered, are offered in both cases, thanks to the liberality of the Dominion government. Harvest will be well over and threshing well begun, the weather so far has been most favorable—and in all probability will continue so—the yield and quality of all crops has been good, nature and the government have done their part, and now all that remains is for the farmers and others interested to make a little extra exertion, and two very successful and valuable exhibitions are assured. The use of these exhibitions is that the large number of new settlers who have begun to make homes for themselves in the district this season, and who have not yet experienced any results for their labors, may see at a glance what others have done, what the country will admit of and what they themselves may do, and thereby be encouraged, so that they may meet the further labors and possible disappointments that may fall to their lot with a better heart—in order that a sound and proper confidence in the country and its capabilities may be thoroughly diffused and firmly established, for confidence means prosperity.

The business interest which every man who owns land in the district has in making these fall shows a success may be shortly stated. The value of his land depends upon how much other people want it. In the first place the land has no value and the government gives it to any man who will take and use it, in even a limited degree. The desire of the homesteader for the land gives it a certain increased value and his labor expended upon it still further increases its value as well as that of land adjacent to it. The value of the homesteaders, land and of the land adjacent then still further increases in value just in proportion as other people want it. Displaying the products of the soil by showing to outsiders what the country is capable of will induce them to want the land in it, and every additional man who takes land or wants land in the district puts a few cents more an acre on the value of the land; in fact puts just so many cents or dollars in the pockets of present settlers. To the farmer owning 320 acres of land, increase of population means an increase in wealth, in the value of his land alone, from say $3 an acre as at present to say $10, $20, $50 or $100 an acre just in exact proportion as population increases in density. On this ground alone it is well worth the while of every farmer to drop his ordinary farm work for a day or two—pressing though it is—and give the two exhibitions a lift by his assistance, his presence and his products.

BY-LAW NO. 29.

A by-law to provide for borrowing the sum of $10,000.00 upon the credit of the Municipality.

Whereas it is expedient that there should be raised by the Municipality of the town of Edmonton the sum of $10,000.00 to enable the Municipality to repay certain amounts temporarily borrowed for the purchase of certain lands and fire apparatus required for the use of the Municipality and for other like purposes of permanent benefit to the Municipality, and also to enable the Municipality to borrow further sums which it is expedient to expend for the purpose of erecting a fire hall and for other like purposes of permanent benefit to the Municipality.

And whereas the value of the rateable property in the Municipality, according to the last revised assessment roll, is $664,364.00.

And whereas the amount of the existing debt of the Municipality, other than for current expenses, is $17,862.49 (incurred in respect of local and permanent improvements) and $138.50 for interest thereon making together $18,000.99 whereof no part is in arrear.

And whereas it is expedient to borrow the said sum of $10,000.00 by the issue of debentures, the principal whereof shall be repayable within ten years from the date upon which this by-law shall take effect, and which shall bear interest in the meantime payable half yearly at the rate of six per cent per annum.

And whereas it is expedient to provide for the repayment of the said principal sum by the creation of an equal yearly sinking fund.

And whereas the total amount which will be required to be raised annually by a special rate for repaying the said debt of $10,000.00 by means of a sinking fund as aforesaid, (and the interest thereon as aforesaid) is $1,395.04.

Therefore the Mayor and Council of the Municipality of the town of Edmonton in council assembled enact as follows:—

1. This by-law is to take effect on the 1st day of December, 1892.

2. The Mayor and Clerk of the Municipality may borrow on the credit of the Municipality the said sum of $10,000.00, and may issue debentures of the Municipality to that amount in sums of not less than $500.00 each and repayable within 10 years from the said 1st day of December, 1892, with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum payable half yearly: such debentures to be payable at the Imperial Bank of Canada, Edmonton, Alberta, N. W. T., and to have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest.

3. For the purpose of paying the amount which shall be required to be raised annually for paying the said interest and creating an equal yearly sinking fund to be set apart for the payment of the said principal sum of $10,000.00 a special rate of two mills and one-tenth of a mill on the dollar, over and above all other rates and taxes, shall be levied in the same manner and at the same time as the general Municipal taxes upon the whole rateable property in the Municipality in each year for the period of ten years from the said 1st day of December, 1892, being the period during which the said debentures will run.

Provisionally adopted in Council this 16th day of September, 1892.

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given that the foregoing is a true copy of a proposed by-law which will be taken into consideration after one month from this 19th day of September, 1892, being the date of the first publication thereof in the "Edmonton BULLETIN," a Public Newspaper published within the Municipality, and that the votes of the Electors of the Municipality will be taken thereon at the town clerk's office, Edmonton, on the 17th day of October, 1892 from the hour of 9 o'clock in the forenoon to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and the polls will then and there be held for that purpose.

ROADS.

Editor BULLETIN,

SIR,—A petition to the government to keep open the old trail from Fort Saskatchewan to Edmonton has been advocated and opposed. A quite straight road from the Fort can be got by crossing the river six or eight times. Another trail can be got by the old trail cutting diagonals across every section, and compensating farmers for severance, of course. A third route requires no expenditure for the first 14 miles, except one small culvert. There are no grades, but it involves three right angles. It is also the route that will in part best serve the traffic from Beaver lake, their nearest practical road to Edmonton. The third route would run from the Fort due south to the new bridge between sections 12 and 13, township 54, range 23, about 8 miles; thence to Daly's, say 5 miles, and there the Beaver lake road would join. From this point to the Fort the road allowances are good, but a little beyond Daly's to get a good road it will be absolutely necessary to cut through some unoccupied sections. What is aimed at are the best routes, one for light and one for heavy traffic, from Daly's to the lower and upper ferry, and one for winter use to Fraser's mill.

WINTER CREAMERIES.

The '91-92 report of the dairy commissioner of Canada is to hand. It gives a very large amount of thoroughly practical information. Among other things the cost of apparatus for a creamery and the returns of several creameries, which were run during the winter in buildings used during the summer as cheese factories, with full particulars regarding the price received, expenses, etc. Butter sent to England realised 26½c a pound, from which must be deducted for shrinkage, freight, commission, etc., 2½c, leaving 24c a pound the price at the creamery. A shipment sent to Vancouver realized 30c a pound with 6c off for freight, shrinkage, commission, etc., which left the value at the creamery the same. This is a pointer for Edmonton showing that Vancouver, which is near, is a better butter market than London, which is far away. The cost of apparatus for a creamery, of which the particulars are given, counts up to $790, including a centrifugal separator. A full set of apparatus with vats instead of separator cost $518. Where the separator was used the milk was gathered every day and the cream extracted while the farmer waited to take home his skim milk, the work of separation only taking about fifteen minutes. Where the separator was not used, the cream only was gathered every second day by the factory. When the milk was delivered by the farmer he was charged 3c for the making of each pound of butter. Where the cream was gathered by the creamery 4c a pound was charged for making the butter.

Macleod Gazette: "The Cayley executive have, as one of their first official acts, increased their own salaries to the tune of $1,000, making a total of $4,500. It is certainly a good and praise-worthy idea to make hay while the sun shines, and as they have some $300,000 odd to trifle with, including an item of $10,153.29 for special public works, not specified, and as also life is short—official life particularly short, and the present Northwest executive committee's life most particularly short—it is not improbable that the sun will do quite a lot of shining in the locality of the executive for a short time."

A CASE OF PLUCK.

Port Arthur is a hustling Ontario town on Thunder Bay, Lake Superior, which has been in locked horns with the C. P. R. for several years. Port Arthur expected to be the great western port on the Canadian shore of Lake Superior; another Chicago or Duluth. It will be remembered that during the Mackenzie administration Port Arthur was rejected as the railway port on Lake Superior in favor of the adjacent port of Fort William, at the mouth of the Kaministiquia river. Although a tremendous howl was raised against Mr. Mackenzie on account of this said to be unjust preference, the present masters of the C. P. R. upheld Mr. Mackenzie's choice. The Port Arthur people did not like this and proceeded to make it as unpleasant as possible for the C. P. R. by levying municipal taxes upon the rolling stock, etc. The C. P. R. retaliated by withdrawing their business and accommodation as much as possible from the now well established town. For some time it looked as though Port Arthur and the hundreds of thousands of dollars which had been sunk there were in the soup. But the Port Arthurites are hustlers from hustleville. They talked and worked and kept a stiff upper lip. As the old saying goes: "The Gods help those who help themselves." When the C. P. R. first declared war upon them there did not appear any hope of relief. But while they kept up the fight and refused to acknowledge themselves beaten the electric railway was brought to practicable perfection, and they were thereby given a means of protecting their interests against even the C. P. R. By means of an electric railway they have reduced their miles of distance from the C. P. R. station at Fort William to almost nothing in the matter of time or expense. The C. P. R. town of Fort William, of course, opposed permitting connection with Port Arthur, even by the electric railway, but here the Ontario government stepped in and granted to Port Arthur the right to make the necessary connection—to run through the town of Fort William and beyond to West Fort William, thereby putting Port Arthur, the outcast, on an almost equal footing in the matter of railway advantages with Fort William, the pet, and saving from financial ruin the people who had sunk their money in Port Arthur. It is just possible that the people of Fort Macleod might find the case of Port Arthur a profitable study.

The first published case of small-pox at Port Arthur was made known on September 22nd, a young man named Frank Jackson, son of the proprietor of the Argyle hotel, being the victim. Investigation showed that a man named Butterfield had died of small-pox in the hotel a few days before. In this case the disease had made no outward manifestation. Fort William has declared a strict quarantine against Port Arthur. Jackson has been placed in an isolated hospital.

The opening prices of wheat at Morden were: No. 1 hard, 54c; No. 2 hard, 51c; No. 1 Northern, 51c; No. 2 Northern, 45; No. 3 hard, 41c. There are now nine wheat buyers on that market.

The town of In touche, on Northumberland straits, Kent county, New Brunswick, was nearly destroyed by fire on September 22nd. Loss $125,000.

H. H. SMITH returned from Beaver lake to-day with his party of sixteen Nebraska delegates. They were all highly pleased with what they saw and will return in the spring. Four homesteads were entered by the party to-day. Five members of the party who did not go to Beaver lake took homesteads north of the Sturgeon, and left for home by Wednesday's train. Mr. Smith finds that four Nebraska settlers with whom he was in correspondence arrived recently. E. J. Gilman, wife and family are already settled at Beaver lake. Two other men, Jackson and Munro, are going out there, and one Schroeder arrived at Edmonton a day or two ago with a large outfit of horses, wagons and cattle. He drove from his home in Nebraska to the boundary and then took the train. Mr. Smith and his party leave for Nebraska on to-morrow's train.

MRS. G. ANDERSON, of the Miners' flat, brought to the BULLETIN office this week a bunch of thirteen fully developed and large size English potatoe onions grown from one set. The bunch numbered 22 onions from the one set, but was broken in half as it was being dug. The other half of the bunch is on exhibition at Norris & Carey's. When it is remembered that these onions seldom give more than three or four bulbs from a single set, the extraordinary nature of the yield in this case will be understood.

Free Press: "It takes four million acres of land to produce seventy million bushels of wheat in Kansas, and the top price for it when put on the market is fifty-eight cents a bushel. In Manitoba eight hundred thousand acres will produce twenty million bushels, and for the best of it we get fifty-five cents a bushel. As a wheat country Manitoba is ahead of Kansas. It is also ahead of Iowa, Minnesota and the Dakotas.
